Above are a number of lines for each card , you may want to use as a ref , something to refer back too , and as time goes on you will not need this reference , use these lines to write down what the cards mean to you as you flick through them and explore the deck , they don't come in a box , usually people just like to either make their own or use cloth or a nice bag , they do come with a nice bag , but I do need to change that and make it more suitable for these cards especially if you want to grow your deck with other sets soon to be made .

you may also find a name on the back of the cards , to use at your advantage , meaning that they symbolise many things in that category .

My cards were designed by me , with the intention of you making the meanings to the images , that you have a story .

But if you only use my names , there is still not a wrong answer to these cards and you should feel comfortable know that whatever feeling you get from them , it is ok . it is okay because there is only what you see in these cards as the user of them . However i did design these cards with you in mind , being that , you can use them for shadow work , Manifestation work , meditation exercises , and whatever else you want to use them for , that decision is yours alone .

The best thing about these cards are they leave the story telling to you as an individual.

but for guidance here are some ideas of what I had in mind . if you feel like the names could change then change them , these are you cards now .

*home--- home related, life related .

*fish -- opinions on finances , decisions , things in general

*bone yard -- relatives , or problems of the heart , coping with death, something missing

*plants -- herbs and gardening , medicinal help , try holistic approach

*flowers -- passion , things that drive us , partnerships , lovers

*beetle--- over coming problems and obstacles in the way of decisions

* butterfly -- love and relationship goals , and self discovery , look into your mind and soul

*wind -- the element wind , air , and trying to let go of bad memories or feelings

*fire --- element fire , and of what drives you in this world

*snake --some one is lie to you , secrets hurt , and people cannot be trusted

*spine--looking into yourself , take care of the important

*chicken--- friends are hard to find , don't trust someone as soon as you see them , get to know them first

- *inheritance---what can you pass on , what will you receive and what is your legacy
- *fruit ---- share and you will be fruitful
- *cat--- familiar , friend , try talking to someone about the things that bother you
- *sun n moon --- everyday part of your life , decisions we make on a daily basis , and astrology related
- *water -- emotions , feelings , love , going with the flow . No rushing
- *star fish--- it may look good but some things sting , don't let your guard down
- *crab--- be mindful of your surroundings
- *the Lotus -- meditation and remember self love is a natural healer , spiritual goals
- *Mountain-- the biggest things in life evolve around yourself
- *spider-- be careful where you set up roots , be careful of who you trust
- *snail-- take your time , as the best things come to those who wait , projects need planning
- *life --- matters of living , travel , money

You will learn to use these meanings or create your own , don't rush , have fun , be yourself .
thank you again for buying the Manifestation cards . set 2 will be available soon .
